 AN EVERYDAY HEALTH LEADER

EVERYDAY HEALTH BEAUTY

Beauty Test Drive

Your expert guide to the beauty aisle

Posted in: Beauty, Skin & Beauty

 0 Comments

The Natural Nail Polish That Makes At-Home Manicures Easier

By Everyday Health Beauty

Published Sep 8, 2014

By Paige Padgett, Special to Everyday Health

Gloss Naturals Nail Lacquer goes on smoothly — no streaks! — and dries incredibly quickly. I couldn't believe how easy it was to paint my nails with my new favorite color, Kelala, a pearlized grey-beige. The luminous color has a sheen that looks sophisticated and is the perfect transition shade from summer to fall. The color is sexier than a matte neutral, yet it's still subtle enough that it's office-appropriate. I used it without a basecoat and the polish lasted about four days before starting to chip. What more could a girl want from her nail polish?

Behind the Label

What it is: Nail polish

What's NOT in it: Dibutyl phthalate, toluene, formaldehyde, formaldehyde resin, and camphor

Green cred: Vegan, cruelty-free, and recyclable bottle, lid, brush, and wand

Buy it: Gloss Naturals Nail Lacquer ($15)

Paige Padgett is a leading authority on green beauty and blogs about chemically safe and eco-friendly makeup, tips, techniques, and trends. She's also a makeup artist with a client list that includes Jillian Michaels.

Posted in: Beauty, Skin & Beauty

 0 Comments